Social Investment sees the need, not the cause

Shell Pakistan deems community investment as key element in its success as a business enterprise. Each year we support a broad range of social development initiatives in the areas of health, education, community development & environment.

Currently, Shell Pakistan is involved in a project which includes (2007) for providing free eye care treatment. Interestingly, a young workforce of Shell Pakistan have brought creativity to the business and led the way for the future with Shell Eyevan, a fully equipped mobile endeavor to transform ideas into viable business ventures for young entrepreneurs across the nation. As a part of our community service and social responsibility, Shell Eco-marathon, a competition for our country's college students to design, build and test energy efficient vehicles at international forum came as a challenge. Shell HIV/ AIDS program has been actively playing a crucial role in creating awareness and reducing the stigma attached to it. Capacity building workshops on the right ideas in the employment of learning assistant has been the part of our long term strategy. Ever since the devastating flood in Pakistan, we are relentlessly working towards flood relief operations. The long term relation with TCF for our building education program is an example of our strong inclination towards social investment initiative. shell.com
